2017 VICTORIAN SENIOR OF THE YEAR AWARDS

Information and nomination form
Message from the Premier and the Minister for Housing, Disability and Ageing

A Neighbourhood House president, an army veteran, a quilter and a dragon boat racer.

What do they all have in common? They were all winners at last year’s Victorian Senior of the Year Awards.

Held annually, the awards recognise the enormous contribution made by seniors across our state.

Whether in health, education or community development, these Victorians make a real difference and prove age is no barrier.

Nominations for the 2017 awards are now open, and we invite you to make a nomination.

You can nominate an older person for their individual efforts, or nominate an organisation for their work in improving the quality of life for Victorian seniors.

All nominees receive a certificate and award recipients will be honoured at Government House as part of the 35th Victorian Seniors Festival in October 2017.

Help us celebrate the efforts of inspiring Victorian seniors and the organisations that are improving the lives of older people.

Please visit www.seniorsonline.vic.gov.au and nominate someone today.

Daniel Andrews MP
Premier of Victoria

Martin Foley MP
Minister for Housing, Disability and Ageing

2016 award recipients

In 2016, the 14 individual award recipients recognised for their work included the president of a Neighbourhood House and adult educator, the State Secretary of the War Widows and Widowed Mothers Association, a Hindu chaplain who volunteers at Wesley Mission, and the founder of a dragon boat club for breast cancer survivors.

Two organisations received awards for promoting age-friendly communities. Maroondah City Council’s Active and Healthy Ageing Initiative provided a blueprint for an age-friendly Maroondah, while Peninsula Transport Assist provides community transport services on the Mornington Peninsula.

Eligibility and selection criteria

Senior of the Year Awards nominees must be an Australian citizen, a resident of Victoria and aged 60 years or over. Nominees will be assessed on their volunteer contribution and achievements since reaching the age of 60.

Nominees are assessed on:
• how they make a difference to community wellbeing through volunteering
• their good standing in the community
• how their positive attitude to ageing inspires others.

The Age-Friendly Victoria Award is open to any organisation or business working with an age-friendly approach to programs and services in Victoria. Nominees must demonstrate achievements in each criterion:
• engagement with older people – older people participate in planning and implementing the age-friendly activity or environment
• age-friendliness – the activity or environment enables older people to achieve good health and wellbeing, social and economic participation, or personal security
• attitudinal shift – the activity or environment promotes positive attitudes towards ageing and older people in the community
• sustainability – the activity or environment is embedded within the community or organisation/business to ensure its ongoing viability.
